Introducing All Image, a way to keep your files secure with a virtual hard disk... Get your mobile phone back by using this simple serial number anti-fraud mobile number finder app. It will keep you away from daily personal calls and send emails alerts to you if your numbers are over dialed. The main function of the app is that it allows you to search and locate mobile phone numbers, hence you can keep safe from unwanted calls, too. It displays the location of the mobile phone's network or sim card from which the numbers are being dialed. This serial number anti-fraud mobile number finder allows you to create a blacklist, which is simply a list of numbers to be blocked on incoming calls. So, even if you are blacklisted, you are no longer targeted by any callers with the same number that you've added. The app allows you to save this list in a table. The app also has the feature to block unwanted number callers through SMS. This way, you can prevent the caller from hitting on you. It's a simple, easy and handy solution for tracking personal mobile numbers. Many people use this best anti-fraud mobile number finder app to protect themselves from unwanted calls and messages from their mobile number. This can be done even when you are on the move. You can also block calls from numbers having the same prefix from your mobile number.
