Q: React - Uncaught TypeError: Cannot read property 'contains' of undefined I know this question is asked thousand of times but none of the answer on stackoverflow helped me. I am getting error when I am on search page. I got some code that reads from an array of objects called items if the user types some string. // Keeps track of an item's being searched by the user. var searchString = ""; // Containers for the search result (items that have the search string) var searchResults = []; // Keeps track of every match for a user. var found = {}; // Keeps track of matches that have been found for the user var matches = []; // Searches the items array for any matches and adds them to the list. function find(search) { // If nothing has been typed yet, build an empty array. if (searchString == "") return items; // Build the array of objects needed for a comparison var arrOfItems = items.filter(function(item) { return item.name.toLowerCase().contains(searchString.toLowerCase()); });
