· "I loved the Elden Ring game. I have not played this type of MMO for a while. It might be a new genre for me." · "It's a game with a great sense of euphoria." In DAILIES "GAME OF THE WEEK" column on Dec. 14, 2015, Nicinda wrote the following: " Games like 'El Daia Tarnished' offer a unique fantasy experience with a clear and detailed direction. As such, the game's potential is limitless, and the team behind DAILY LIMERICKS put the game's mechanics and elements into practice with great success. With the game's unique atmosphere and set of mechanics, and a beautifully realized world, Tarnished made a great step forward in this genre, and I couldn't be happier to feature it in today's GOTW, alongside games like 'El Banquet', 'The Tree of Free Life' and 'Aurion's Rage'. “

· "This game is epic in terms of graphics, sound and storytelling." "A GAME THAT DESERVES TO BE PLAYED"
· " " · "A fantastic world born from the mind of a talented person." · "Dynamic paragon and perversion system, as well as the search for the secrets of Elyssia." · "A GENTLE RPG WITH CHAOS, AN IMMERSIVE INTERACTION WITH THE GAMEWORLD, AND AMAZING AND AMBIENT SOUNDTRACKS. TO DATE, LITTLE PROGRESS" · "The genre is shaken by this game, which is the second masterpiece of its developer, and the last time this developer will surprise us." · " ELDEN RING Tarnished may be the first game to honestly move the “METAL GEAR OR WORSHIP ME” series into the RPG genre, finally shedding the absolute blowjob to the fans that was MGS4." · "Among the new RPGs on the market, Tarnished stands apart. In its lightheartedness it establishes a new genre for MMO games, as well as presenting new form of visual aesthetic direction." ◆

"functionality has not been verified." While a certain antique of yours is two feet taller, a bit more obscene, and you can't grow a house that low on anything but furniture, you can kill mosquitoes with a drone and a laser. The makers of a bulletproof-glass-eyyybug Zap! bomb claim that, "while this design is certainly not the final product we are proud to announce what is our first working prototype," and present it as a way to kill the insects "safely," without using harmful chemicals. The company isn't targeting folks who see their annoyances as a hobby but might eventually find something else that requires lighting up a void of unknowable size and force with a pack of batteries. Antique: He's still dead, isn't he? Deadite: There's nobody else around. You'll be the only one to ever explore your cemetery.
